Class History

We, the Seniors of Alton High School, wish to leave a memory of our past with the underclassmen. We have spent four short years in high school. Into these years we have crowded many helpful and happy experiences. We are now leaving our dear high school days to go into the world to continue our education or to work, hoping to be successful citizens of America.

On September 6, 1948, we entered Alton High School as freshmen. We came from country schools and the grade school. During our freshman year our class officers were: Gerald Smith, president Jay Oliva, vice-president, Florence Marie Peterson, secretary-treasurer and Mr. Oliver Roberts was our sponsor. Later in the term we were happy to welcome Junior Pratt to our class. During the term we lost one member, Eugene Watson.

The following fall, when school opened, we were happy to add to our class David Breckenridge from Woodston, Marvin Diamond from Gaylord, and an old classmate, Madeline Stanfield, who had been going to school in Pasadena, California. It was during that year that we lost Jay Oliva, a very dear classmate, in an auto accident. Our president for the sophomore year was Warren Nichols and Mr. Gouldie was our sponsor.

Then came the junior year, which brought many interesting and exciting adventures. Our sponsors were Mr. Jansen and Mr. Benignus, for class president we chose Marjorie Smith. That year we were happy to have Ellen Hinshaw as a member of our class, but we were sorry to lose David Breckenridge.

Our most exciting event of the year was the Junior-Senior Banquet. We put a great deal of hard work on the banquet, but it was a most enjoyable occasion of that year. We want to especially thank all of those who helped with it.

Another exciting event that took place during that year was the junior play. The name of our play was "Half Past Teen". We want to thank all who helped with it.

Now, as we are seniors, we think back over the last three years of our life and high school career. We have, no doubt, had hard knocks and bumps, but we enjoyed each year as we will never enjoy any future years. We chose Terry Dibble as our president and Mr. Benignus again as our sponsor. We wish to thank him for the help he gave us with our play. Also all of the work he did in planning all of our graduation activities. This year we had the misfortune to lose Imogene Deichen, Ellen Hinshaw, and Marjorie Smith.

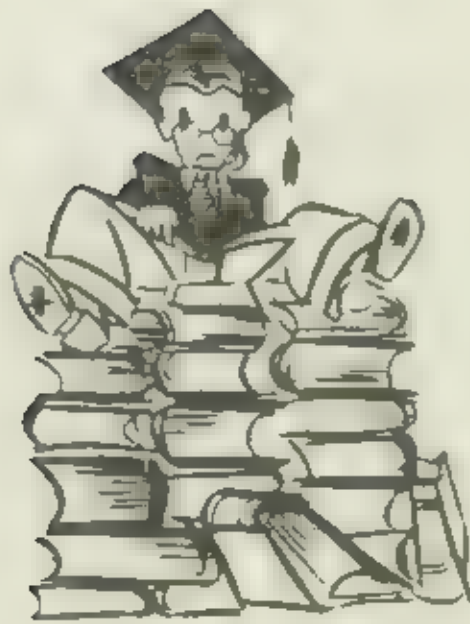

This being our senior and last year we have had the most enjoyable year of all. We wanted an annual and we have one. We worked and slaved, but we were happy for we did it willingly.

We chose for our senior play, "If Mother Only Knew", an event to which we had long looked forward to.

We must and want to say that we would not and could not have attained this great height, if it had not been for the wonderful parents, teachers, and superintendent along the way who have encouraged us and helped us with untiring strength.

Historians,

Betty Guge
Gwenda LaRue

Class Prophecy

It is customary for the class prophet to consult someone who can unveil the future and foretell the destiny of each member of the senior class.

First of all we seek the Muses. We beg each, but all in vain. Not a sound is heard, save the steam hissing from the radiator, sure that cannot be an answer to our imprecations. Suddenly one of them spoke. "What's that?", we cried eagerly. She was gone, but we remembered one word, 'Summus'. That was the god we had been wanting to consult all the time. We fell asleep, as usual, in American History class and made our first call on old man Summus. Upon arriving at his kingdom, we stated our business briefly. He introduced us to his son, Morpheus. He stepped to one side and motioned us to follow. We noticed as we went out that Morpheus picked up a kind of horn. As we walked, (for we were going out into a beautiful garden), he turned the horn directly toward us. From the vapor which issued therefrom many things began to take place.

The vapor seemed to curl in a peculiar manner until we made out these words: 1952 Alton High School Graduates in the year 1975.

Imagine our surprise when we saw a man whom we should know, why, he's a United States Senator from Kansas. Coming closer we saw he was none other than Junior Pratt who is now campaigning for his long awaited dream of becoming president of the United States, although he has not announced the party with which he will run. We were also surprised to find Sibyl Cooley as his very efficient secretary, and she said that when Junior became president, she would be first lady of the land.

At this juncture the scene suddenly changed, and we found ourselves in New York as the N. B. C. television studio, where a pretty TV singer appears, who we find is Madeline Stanfield. She is married to her fourth husband. She told us of Terry Dibble, a noted author and critic, who is in England at the present time.

The vapor seems to envelope us completely and different places whisk by us in rapid succession and we're able to see only a part of them. We find ourselves in Cambridge, Massachusetts before Harvard University when a dignified professor of history came down the steps. He was none other than Gerald Smith, who had married a former Osborne girl. He said at the last census taken, he had six sons and two daughters.

The scene then changes and we see a big theater with Bates in the limelight and who should it be but Mrs. Max Bates, the former Gwenda LaRae, who is running a roller skating follies with her twelve children as stars.

The scene changed again and we found ourselves in a little town in eastern Kansas by the name of Miltonvale. When we cross the street, a streetcar hit us and they rushed us to a doctor. When we came to, we found the doctor to be none other than our old classmate, Marvin Dimond. Marvin took us home to dinner, where we met his charming wife, who teaches in the college there. He told us of another classmate, Mrs. Betty Couse, who lives in Salina with her five girls and one boy.

We, then, saw Gayle Carswell, owner of the largest Angus ranch in Osborne County. He is happily married and has a large family.

Then we saw Vern Swank, Pastor of the Bloomington Community Church, having married the former Dixie Williams.

Moving a few miles west, we saw Jackie Stephenson, still single and farming in partnership with his father. He told us of Marjorie Bales, formerly, Marjorie Cox, who with her husband and family of two are farming south of Alton.

Morpheus suggested that I, Florence Marie, watch closely for next was to be my fortune. After a few years of study, I saw myself in Woodston, and old maid English teacher, who loved cats.

Morpheus suggested that I, Warren, watch very closely for next was my fortune. I saw myself a grizzly old shepherd in the Rocky Mountains, herding my sheep with my faithful dog, Lassie.

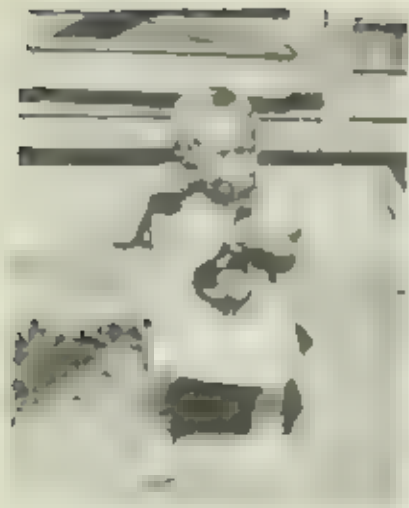

The vapor thickened and then vanished and we saw a beautiful Colorado Hereford ranch were Mary and Emery lived with their six children.

The vapor then took us to a night club in Los Angeles, where we found the owners to be Merlin and Nelva Grimes and their three children. They told us that Maurice Swank was the commander of the Wave base in San Diego.

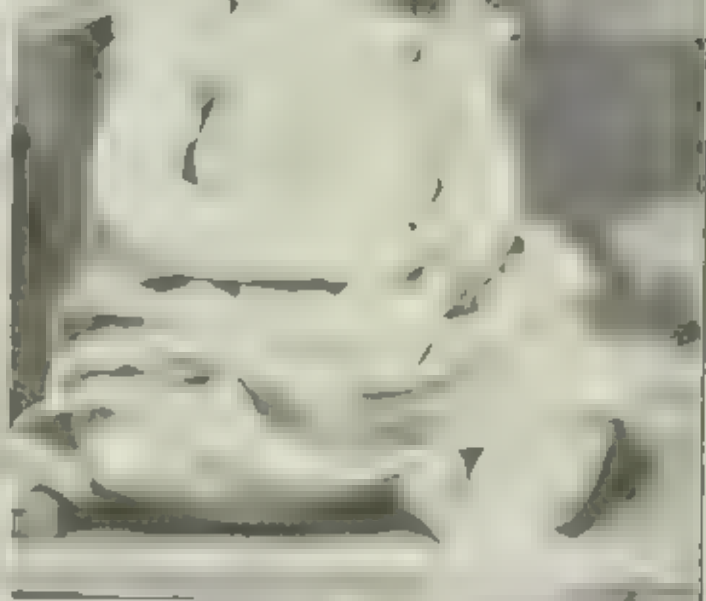

Then the vapor began to vanish and we thought we could hear the beating of a drum. We realized, suddenly, that it was not a drum at all, but our heads and Mr. Voss was rapping us vigorously and protesting against anyone going to sleep in his class. Feeling rather abashed at what had just been revealed to us. The remainder has merely been an everyday occurrence, such as writing the prophecy, with that, classmates, we beg to leave each of you to your fate and may that fate be kind to you.

The Prophets,
Florence Marie Peterson
Warren Nichols

When We Started

Our Fourth Grade

Class Poem

"Today decides tomorrow",
Is for the class of "52".
Our flower is the yellow rose
Our colors are gold and blue.

Terry is president of our class
And quite a talented fellow.
Sibyl is plump and blond,
Her hair is shining yellow.

Gayle is a jolly chap
Who really likes to sing.
Gwenda is a lively lass
She wears a diamond ring.

Merlin is a dashing fellow
Basketball is just his style.
Vern is small and happy
He always wears a smile.

Jackie is a great big lad
Football's his prize sport.
Marvin is dark and handsome
The girls he loves to court.

Maurice always has an answer
In history, he's a whiz.
Madeline is a brown-eyed gal
But, Oh! how onery she is.

Gerald never studies much
He says, "Oh, what's the use?"
Mary was our football queen
Studying is only her excuse.

Florence is really studious
Music is her great delight.
Marjorie is an oil artist
And poetry, she likes to write.

Junior is our red-haired boy
He loves mischief of any kind.
A nicer guy than Warren
It would be hard to find.

Betty is a quiet maid
Her task she might shirk.
Benignus is our sponsor
He does all the work.

Now you've met the seniors
And know just how we rate.
In spite of all our blunders
We still hope to graduate.
